Telegraph, &c. BALTIMORE, April 28-9 p. m. It is pretty well known that a majority of the delegates elect to the Whig city convention, whose duty it will be to select a delegate to the Whig National Convention, are favorable to Mr. Fillmore. Some of the wards, however, chose Scott men, and all of them are willing to support the Maryland, so far as preference is concerned, may be put down as a Fillmore State. Among the rank and file General Scott is doubtless strongest; and as these are the voters, we need have no apprehensions if he should come before the people. If the National Convention nominate him, he may rest confident that Maryland will wheel into rank and give him her electoral vote. Nothing can be more certain than this.

nominee, whoever he may be.

The impression is very generally gaining ground that the General will get to nomination.
Coming events cast their shadows before them and the shadow is already formidable.

General Cass will, almost without a doubt, be the nominee of the Democrats. It would be well, therefore, in so great a battle, to have a general at the head of each army.

I am now informed by a gentleman thoroughly posted in the matter that a line of telegraph, upon the House printing patent, will soon be put in operation between Philadelphia and Washington. The work has already been commenced, and I am told it will not close until New Orleans and all the principal cities of the Union are united in telegraphic communication by this company. Thus there will be established a formidable opposition to the old system. Competition is said to be the life of trade; if so, it may be serviceable in this matter.

We expect to have a busy time in Baltimore for the next two months. Besides the Whig and Democratic Conventions, there are to be some half dozen or more assemblages of other kinds, all of which will bring a vast number of strangers to the city. There will, however, be room for them all, and a most hearty welcome.

Business is steady. Breadstuffs firm and tending upwards. Money market easy. CHESAPEAKE.

One Term.

The one-term principle for executive offices has long been a cardinal principle with the Whig party, and advocated and insisted upon by Mr. Clay, Mr. Webster, Mr. Fillmore, and all the leading men of the party. In the campaign of 1840, from the corruptions which had crept into | they the administration of the general government, "one term" was the rallying cry of the Whigs, to which Gen. Harrison was pledged. In 1844, the national convention engrafted that as one of the principles of the Whig party in a resolution de-

"A Tariff for revenue to defray the necessary expenses of the government and discriminating with special reference to the protection of the domestic labor of the country, the distribution of the proceeds from the sales of the public lands, a single term for the Presidency, a reform of elec-tive usurpation, and generally such an administration of the affairs of the country as shall impart to every branch of the public service the greatest practicable efficiency controlled by well-regulated and wise economy."

If this resolution does not commit the Whig party against every Presidential re-election, there is no meaning in language. It was a powerful and effective argument with us against Van Buren in 1840. To these principles the Whig party has since and still adheres.—Detroit Tribune.

OTHER DAYS .- The editors of a paper published in Indianapolis some years since, as an inducement for persons to subscribe for the paper, re-

"The mails from Washington city are now very regular and direct, and we get papers from that place, and others equally distant, in about TWO WEEKS after they are issued. We can, of course, furnish intelligence to the interior country south and west of us later than it can be obtained from any other part of the State."

This, of course, was a boast, and placed in its most favorable light. What a change twentyseven years has made! Now you can get news from Washington in minutes, instead of weeks. and receive intelligence from Liverpool and London in less than two weeks! If so great a change has taken place in that time, what may we not expect in the next twenty-seven years ?- Sentinel.

EXCAVATING COIN .- The French rogues can course. remove one side of a silver coin with a very thin fine saw, cut out the silver in the middle, fill up with baser metal, solder on the surface again, and leave the piece looking as before! Most of the pieces thus altered bear the effigy either of Louis XVIII, Charles X, or Louis Philippe. The fraud was first detected at the Bank of France The deterioration of the coins thus altered is about seven-tenths.

OUR SECOND YEAR! One year ago this day was issued the first number of the American Telegraph. We were then assured by many intelligent citizens of Washington that it had already been fully demonstrated that such a paper could not live here, and that ours could not exist three months; while cautious men of business assured us that if we should succeed in sustaining it, then they would give us their support! The predictions of the former have proved baseless—the wish that was father to the thought has not been realized; and the promises of the latter have not been redeemed. Cut off from all hopes of the kind of patronage on which other papers of this city fatten—en-countering the overwhelming competition of Wash-ington papers supported by the government patronage, and the newspapers of Baltimore, that derive their support from a commercial and man-ufacturing population of one hundred and eighty thousand persons—proscribed in official places— avoided by timid men in office—opposed by the concerted influence of a portion of a respectable religious communion, upon a pretext en-tirely baseless—without the influence in the community of connexions and friends to defend us from the adroit opposition of interested competitors,—we have yet maintained our position, and to-day stand before our fellow-citizens prepared to serve them faithfully, fearlessly, and ndependently.

We have no favors to ask. We have respec and good-will toward the people of this commu-nity, and intend to merit theirs in return. But we shall not do this by flattering their follies, or appealing to their sympathies. When such a course as this becomes necessary to insure success, we shall not be ashamed to fail. But until it does, our path shall lie onward and upward.

We will neither fail nor falter.
Now for a few familiar words. Why do we not sell our paper as cheap as the Baltimore papers are sold? is the frequent question. We reply, Because we are not in Baltimore—because a com-mercial city of one hundred and eighty thousand people can yield an amount of advertising cus tom not to be obtained in a community of forty thousand people who do their shopping in Balti

Do their shopping in Baltimore! Yes, by wilful and unreasonable opposition to the only cheap paper of their own that ever could survive their slights, the business men of Washington give all the aid in their power to promote the interests of Baltimore merchants here. The Baltimore papers contain Baltimore advertisements; and the people of Washington compile their memoranda from such advertisements, send their orders to Baltimore, obtain their goods there, and thus make our own storekeepers pay a well-merited penalty.

Would we proscribe the papers of Baltimore By no means. We regard the morning as flat and dull that does not bring them to us. We are willing to encourage their circulation here. They should bring light and knowledge to every home and place of business throughout our whole city. Every one should rejoice in the facilities afford. But the extensive circulation of a Washington afternoon paper, with the advertisements of Washington business people, should preserve us from the temptation of sending to Baltimore for those commodities which can as well be obtained in Washington. It was with special reference to this that we commenced an afternoon paper. We knew the advantages offered by the penny press of Baltimore-we appreciated them fully; we did not wish to come in conflict with them. We intended not to cross the path of those journals; and we believed our purposes would be approved by our own people.

By many they have; but not by all. So far from this, we seriously doubt (call it egotism if you will!) that there is another man in Washington who would have clung to an enterprise as the writer of this has adhered to that upon which he had embarked—laboring without present re-compense, and with but feeble hope for the future; and even, from bitter necessity, submitting to a transitory public misapprehension of his true position in particulars of the most serious

But away with the past. The present around us, and the prospect before, are what now concern us. We have no revenges—no regrets. We have no enemies that we know of, and care not a dime for any that are unknown. We intend to labor on, to improve with increasing means, to stand by our friends, to make them many, to stifle no sentiment, to sacrifice no opinion, to conciliate no bigot, to flatter no money-worshipper, to bow before no official upstart, to sanction no public or private wrong, and in general to live honestly, soberly, democratically, and peaceably, and die only when our time shall have come.

If, therefore, any of our fellow-citizens shall feel inclined to give us kind words of encourage ment, and to render us kindly aid, at the commencement of this our second year, we cordially invite them to our office. We will greet them at the threshold with a friendly welcome, endeavor to make a good return for all the benefits we shall receive at their hands, and preserve them from all future regrets that such has been their

WILMINGTON BOARDING SCHOOL
FOR BOYS.—This institution is situated in one of the healthiest parts of the city of Wilmington, entirely beyond the settled portions of the town. The uniform healthfulness of the location may be inferred from the fact that, since the establishment of the School, about twenty-eight years, very few cases of sorious indisposition have occurred among the pupils, and not a single death either here, or from diseases contrabted while here.

The course of instruction includes, besides the ordinary English branches, Natural Philosophy, Chemistry, Physiology, History, Rhestoric, the various branches of Mathematics, and the Latin, Greek, and French Languages. Particular attention is paid to the higher Mathematics and their application to Mechanics and Engineering; the latter and Surveying are taught practically by field operations, with the use of appropriate instruments. Lectures on Natural Philosophy and Chemistry, in which all the important principles are illustrated by experiments, are regularly delivered before the students.

As the object is to make the instruction as theorough and practical as possible, no expense has been spared in providing suitable apparatus. It is believed that, in this respect, the Institution will compare favorably with any similar one in the country. A carefully selected library, of more than one thousand volumes, containing works on the various branches of Literature and Science, furnishes ample reading matter; while a Laboratory, fully supplied with apparatus and tests, contains all that is necessary for practical instruction in Chemical Manipulation.

THE Number for December, 1850, completed the twenty-third semi-annual volume. The work has been enlarged since its commencement in July, 1839, and each volume now contains more than seven hundred large octavo pages. A few complete sets of the Magazine may be obtained at the publisher's office, 142 Fulton street, New York, neetly and substantially bound, for two dollars and a half per volume. The following are a few of the many commen ers received by the editor of the Merchants' com distinguished statesmen: Letter from the Hon. Henry Clay.

ASHLAND, 20th July, 1849.

Dear Sir: I wish to express to you the gratification I derived on receiving the July number of the Merchants Magazine and Commercial Review, from viewing your portrait in the beginning, and from reading your address to your friends at the end of it. When we feel under obligations to those who have contributed to our information and amusement, we are naturally desirons to possess all the knowledge of them, of their sppearance, of the features of their countenance, and of the character and habits of their mind, which we can acquire. You have placed your numerous readers (at least you have me, if I may not speak for them) under those obligations; and the number of your valuable work now before me, in some degree, satisfies the desire to which I have alluded.

I have become quite familiar with the Magazine and Review, and have no hesitation in expressing my humble opinion that it is aminently entitled to the public regard and support. It collects and arranges, in good order, a large amount of valuable statistical and other information, highly useful not only to the merchant, but to the statement, to the cultivator of the earth, to the manufacturer, to the mariner, in short, to all classes of the business and reading community.

Entertaining this opinion, I am glad that it has been, and reading community.

Entertaining this opinion, I am glad that it has been, and hope that it may continue to be, liberally patronized.

Offering you cordinal assurances of my esteem and regard, I am truly your friend and obedient servant,

Freeman Hunt, esq.

HUNT'S MERCHANTS' MAGAZINE

AND COMMERCIAL REVIEW. Established, July, 1889,

BY PRESMAN HUNT, EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR

Extract of a letter from Hon. Millard Fillmore.

"I have read it (Merchants' Magazine) with a good deal of attention, and have no hesitation in saying that I think it one of the most valuable periodicals that was ever published. To the merchant it seems quite indispensable, and to the statesman and man of general information almost equally desirable. It is a grand repository of useful facts and information, which can be found nowhere so well digested and so accessible as in these numbers. I only regret that I do not own the whole work."

Letter from the Hon. Thomas H. Renton.

Letter from the Hon. Thomas H. Benton.

WASHINGTON CITY, April 20, 1849.

Mr. Freeman Hunt.—Sir: I owe you many thanks for the opportunities I have had to read the Merchantie Magazine, and have found it in reality to be a magazine, and that well replenished, of all the useful matter which the title would imply, and presented with a fullness and clearness which delights while it instructs. It is, in fact, a merchants' magazine in the large acceptation of the term—merchants who go between nations, whose large operations bring many departments of knowledge, and a view of the state of the world, into daily requisition. But it is not the great merchant only, but the one of more modest, but, nevertheless, of most useful operations—the merchant of the interior also—who will find this magazine to abound with the information the pursuit of his business and the elevation of the mercantile character requires. Nor is its utility at all confined to merchants, but extends to the legislator and diplomatist, and to all who are charged with managing the affairs of the nation. For myself, I have found it most useful to me in my sentatorial labors, and have been in the habit for many years of carefully consulting it. Letter from the Hon. Thomas H. Benton.

Very respectfully, sir, your obedient servant,
THOMAS H. BENTON.

Letter from Hon. Wm. H. Seward. My Dear Sir: Have the goodness to place my name en your list of subscribers for the Marchants' Magasine. I regard it as an invaluable work for the use of all who would understand not merely commercial operations in this extending country, but the fiscal and commercial questions involved in the administration of the government.

I am, with great respect, your humble servant,
Freeman Hunt, esq. WILLIAM H. SEWARD.

COLD SPRING WATER CURE.

COLD SPRING WATER CURE.

THIS NEW AND SPLENDID ESTABLISHMENT for the scientific treatment of the various diseases with which the human system is afflicted, is situated about three miles from the city of Buffalo, in a rural spot, and so accessible from all points as to be reached without inconvenience or delay.

A line of omnibuses runs from the steamboat landings in Buffalo to the springs every ten minutes.

The house and grounds are near the extensive and beautiful green-houses and unseries of the Messrs. Hodges & Bryants; and the scenery in all directions is unsurpassed, as regards either variety or beauty; embracing points of view, from which may be taken in at a glance the broad expanse of Lake Erie, the Niagara flowing majestically towards the Falls, extensive forests, and the "Queen City of the Lakes," with its moving panorama of steamboats and ceaseless enterprise.

The water, taken immediately from the celebrated "Cold Spring," is unsurpassed as regards coldness and purity, by any in the United States. The house, recently erected at a cost of about seven thousand dollars, has been fitted up in a neat and elegant style, at considerable extra expense, and is sufficiently capacious to accommodate seventy-five patients.

Connected with the establishment, and constitut gon

Connected with the establishment, and constitue gon

MEDICAL DEPARTMENT.

MEDICAL DEPARTMENT.

The institution is under the general supervision of S. M. Davis, M. D., Professor of the Theory and Practice of Medicine in Central Medical College, and Geo. W. Davis, M. D., formerly of Dansville, N. Y., the resident physician and is permanently associated with the before mentioned gentleman as counsel, and associate of the medical board of control. And the friends of the establishment deem it a matter of felicitation that the services of Miss Mary M. Taylor, a lady of high medical attainments, who has attended two courses of lectures in the Central Medical College, have been secured, and that female patients can at any time avail themselves of her invaluable aid and coursel.

The steward's department is under the control of a gen-tleman eminently qualified for that position; and unwea-ried pains will be taken to have every thing appertaining to the establishment arranged on a plan, and conducted in a way, to ensure the comfort, and promote the health and happiness of all who may wish to avail themselves of its benefits. Baths of all descriptions, adapted to the curs-of the various forms of disease, and constructed on a scale not inferior to those of any other establishment in this country. An enlightened public sentiment has everywhere repu

An enlightened public sentiment has everywhere repudiated a reckless use of drugs in the treatment of disease; while intolerable sufferings and broken constitutions have imperatively demanded "Reform." A return from a wide and fatal departure from the simplicity of Nature's laws is called for, alike by a rational love of bappiness and the deplorable exigencies of our condition. Hydropathy, or a scientific use of water as a restorative and curative agent, is a practical substitution of a simple and remarkably efficacious mode of curing the sick; for that system of drugging, depleting, and cauterizing, which, in obtaining the mastery over disease, too frequently places the patient beyond the reach of further annoyance. The success of the various Water Cure establishments in this country, to say nothing of any other, has fully confirmed the hopes of the early discoverers and promulgators of the great traths upon which the system is founded, and renders verbal communications unnecessary. It is deemed sufficient to say, that the "Cold Spring Water Cure" will compare favorably with any of the well-conducted establishments of a similar character, and will be found equal to the best, as regards the order, convenience, and desirableness of its arrangements. The institution is now open for the reception of patients, and in full operation.

TERMS.

For board, medical avice, attendance and nursing, &c., from $7 to $14 per week, payable weekly, varying according to the room and attention required. Each patient will be required to furnish two lines sheets, two cotton comforters, one woollen blanket, and four towels; or, where it is not convenient for the patient to furnish them as above, they can be supplied at the establishment by paying fifty cents a week.

All communications for medical advice should be addressed either to S. M. Davis, M. D., or to George W. Davi 1 M. D., 239 Main street, Buffalo, N. Y.
